

WIRELESS PENETRATION TESTING

THOROUGH TESTING OF YOUR WIRELESS NETWORKS

Wireless networks now form the backbone of many networks. Providing convenient access for employees, visitors and customers.

Getting wireless access right means users are limited to only accessing networks, applications and data that they should.

Getting wireless access wrong can be catastrophic. Temporary users could access confidential areas of a network holding sensitive data.

Penetration Testing finds those weaknesses in wireless networks. Before being exposed by innocent users or exploited by people with criminal intent.

On contacting us, we can provide clear advice on what needs to be tested. We help you determine what to include. What presents most risk.

We appreciate that you might be needing assessment and advice straight away. We are flexible.

We are ready to test when you need us.

Testing is low impact. Technology that we review is treated with great care to ensure there is no disruption to service.

Results are gathered and delivered in easy to understand reports with clear guidance on fixing and what to do next.

HOW WE ASSESS WIRELESS NETWORKS

! DISCOVERY

Forming a deep understanding of the wireless network environment that needs to be tested. How it functions. Who should have access. How connections are made to company networks.

👍 ASSESSMENT

Understanding the environment and its supporting technology allows us to shape and craft specific tests. We combine this with the underlying network configuration to create a comprehensive set of tests.

🔍 EXPLORATION

Under strict control, our tests are applied. Results are carefully monitored. This provides us with further intelligence and understanding of the network. Understanding that can be used to create very specific tests that provide a deep assessment.

WHAT YOU GET FOR YOUR MONEY

Our goal is to ensure you get best value for money from your test. Determining exactly what needs to be included. Concentrating on what is important to your business.

Testing is performed by a team of experts that has experience of assessing large and small organisations right across the world.

Our findings will be presented in reports that you will understand. Consisting of clear detail on what we have found and what to do next. You can pick up the phone and ask us questions. You will speak to a real person who understands testing.

Our testing packages include further testing to confirm security fixes have been applied. We stay with you every step of the way.
